DEDICATION

TO THE FACULTY

This is one way we have of showing our appreciation to you who have been patient guides through the past eleven years. We feel that at best, this is poor compensation for the time spent with us but at least you know that we are making some effort to express our gratitude.

May you continue to hold high the Torch of Learning. From its rays we are able to obtain the ideals and concepts which make us better citizens in a better world.

CLASS HISTORY

Mt. Ulla High School
Mt. Ulla, North Carolina
Sometime in '44

Dear Mr. Deal:

If you remember a year or so ago, I occupied one of the seats in your class. And so you know I never could keep those dates and explorers straight. I hope that these figures, dates, leaders, and presidents are exact this time. I want you to read another one of my history papers.

In the month of August 1940, 53 happy Freshmen began their climb upward. It was a grand and glorious feeling to be in High School. Little Howard Miller was still in knee pants and Catherine Knox was still wearing "pigtails." We were very important (in our own estimation). We were divided into two groups under the leaderships of Mr. William Norris and Mr. Lawrence Pittman. The most outstanding event of the year was the play, Mrs. O'Leary's Cow, which we presented. By the end of the year we were adjusted to the new world we had stepped into—High School.

Under the leadership of Miss Pauline Everhardt and Mr. Hugh White, we were climbing upward toward our goal. A great honor was bestowed upon six of our classmates, the acceptance into the National Beta Club. These happy students were Mary Anna Caldwell, Nancy Hall, Carol Erwin, Catherine Knox, Calvin Barringer, and Sarah Jewett. Our activities were numerous that year.

Juniors! Swiftly we are approaching our goal. This year we are proud to have as our leaders Mrs. Dave Graham (formerly Miss Pauline Everhardt) and Miss Mary Bost. We had the honor of presenting the King and Queen contest for which the proceeds went to sponsor the Junior-Senior Party. Margaret Oliphant and Frances Davis, two more of our classmates, were accepted into the Beta Club.

Now our glorious days are near an end. We have reached our goal with great success due to the splendid leadership of our teachers. Somewhere along the way we lost ten of our members. We are for the first time undivided and under the guidance of Miss Helen Carpenter. Carol Erwin was elected class president. On January 29, 1944, we sponsored a Defense Stamp and War Bond Auction. We were amazed at the results. We sold $2,000 of bonds and stamps.

Andrew Goodnight, one of our classmates, had to leave us to take up his duties in the U. S. Navy. We were sorry that Mary Lou McConnell was unable to finish with us due to illness.

Our days have drawn to a close, twilight is falling now, but a bright sun awaits all of us. We know not what paths we shall travel in the future years but it is our earnest desire that each one of us may be able to congratulate each other on his or her success.

Sincerely,

SARAH JEWETT,
Historian.

STATISTICS

Mt. Ulla High School
Mt. Ulla, North Carolina
February, 1944

Dear Miss Bowles:

Since you were our mathematics teacher, it seems that you would be interested in the Statistics of the 1944 senior class, so I will relate them to you.

With the teachings all of the teachers have given us, I know we all have good mental foundation and when I looked at the Statistics I found that we averaged a good physical foundation. Our shoe size averaging  $7\frac{1}{2}$ . The girls sporting a  $6\frac{1}{2}$  and the boys an  $8\frac{1}{2}$ .

Of course the girls in the class aren't geometric figures but some rank high as far as figures go. Their height varies from 5' to  $5'7\frac{1}{2}"$  and their weight from 80 to 135 lbs. The boys are rather outstanding too. Their weight averages 149 lbs. and their height  $5'9"$ .

At first glance you can see that brown hair is predominant but I must not fail to mention the blondes, sandies and reds who have attracted so much attention from the opposite sex and stirred up rivalry among themselves.

Naturally the boys seem to be looking into the future more than the girls. Most of them want to be pilots and their favorite subject in school is Physical Education. You see they are preparing themselves to pass their physical examination, while the greater portion of the girls want to be nurses but have chosen typing as their favorite subject. It doesn't sound logical, does it?

You can see from the foregoing paragraph that pilots are rather popular; so is the Army Air Corps Song which was chosen, though love songs were the favorites of some of the seniors who seem to think they are in love.

As usual the Democrats outnumber the Republicans but it is unusual to find someone who is neither. Perhaps he will belong to either party instead of neither.

Our Statistics show that our class is composed of various religious denominations—fifteen Lutherans, thirteen Presbyterians, twelve Methodists and three Baptists.

Our class, being very intelligent and hard working, is graduating after only four years in high school with the exception of five pupils, who just loved those stories in their English books so much, they wanted to hear them over and over. Of course, we all liked English which was indicated by the selection of Miss Bost as our favorite teacher.

Although the votes for the western and air corps movies were numerous, the most votes were for a real war and romantic movie, which was "So Proudly We Hail."

According to the Statistics the girls and boys have chosen Betty Grable and Greer Garson as their favorite movie stars, with Bob Hope and John Mack Brown thrown in to furnish entertainment.

Our taste for radio programs varies greatly. It can be divided into two parts, musical and feature. The musical programs vary from "The Grand Ole Opera" to "The New York Philharmonic" and the feature programs vary from "The Lone Ranger" to "Blondie and Dagwood." "The Lux Theatre" was chosen the favorite radio program of the class.

I found that the majority of the seniors have blue eyes and have chosen blue as their favorite color.

Most of the seniors consider the Junior-Senior Ball and Graduation the most outstanding events of this year.

Now, I have come to the place when there aren't any more Statistics to relate to you. My only hope is that this letter will bring back to your mind pleasant thoughts and lingering memories of this bright and happy senior class.

Sincerely yours,
CAROL ERWIN,
Statistician.

CLASS POEM

Mount Ulla High School
Mount Ulla, North Carolina
February, 1944

Dear Miss Bost:

You remember for the past few years, I have been a member of your English class. I never was very good at writing poetry but I got down to work and dashed off a few lines. Here is the sample.

As we leave our dear Mount Ulla school,
We hope we have learned the Golden Rule.
With many thoughts of our teachers in mind,
May they never be left behind.

As we journey o'er our onward ways,
Leaving the joys of our wonderful school days,
We wish to express our thankfulness to you
Our dear friends so kind and true.

So at last it is time to say farewell
To the school we have known so well.
And now we lift our voices high
Not to say farewell but just good-bye.

Yours sincerely,

MARY ANNA CALDWELL,
Poet.

CLASS SONG

We'll remember Mount Ulla
As we go to face our life.
We'll remember Mount Ulla as we go through all our strife.
We'll remember Mount Ulla our friends and teachers too.
We'll remember our adventures as we do Mount Ulla School.

Farewell to thee Mount Ulla High,
Our hearts will always dwell among the past.
Soon school days end
And then say adieu, until we meet again.

PROPHECY

Saint Luke's Hospital
New York, N. Y.
May 15, 1954

Dear Miss Carpenter:

Can you realize that we have been out of school for ten years today? I just can't realize so much has happened, and I thought you might be interested in knowing just what has happened to all our class of '44.

But first I want to congratulate you on your promotion as head of the French Department at Yale University. It certainly is wonderful although I'm not surprised.

As you have probably heard, I am head Dietitian at Saint Luke's Hospital here in New York. Today I was called in for a consultation with the new Chief-of-Staff, Dr. James Beeker, better known to us as Jimmie. To my utter amazement his able assistant is Thetis Briggs. They had just arrived from the dear "Old Sunny South," and we decided to have dinner at the "Stork Club" and talk over old school days.

Thetis told us right off the bat that Elsie Kerr and Virginia Shoaf were married as soon as they finished business school and now each have four adorable girls.

Margaret Oliphant, who eloped graduation night, is now with her husband in Florida where they have several large orange groves. Jimmie was simply shocked when I told him that as soon as Carmon Horton and Glenn Hoffner finished their Agriculture course at N. C. State College, they left for South America with their brides to take over a large rubber plantation left them by a wealthy uncle.

Jimmie next told us some exciting news about Willie Corriher; she is now a Medical Missionary in Africa where she is doing wonderful work partly due to the shining beauty of her red hair.

Louise Craven, our talented Musician, is now taking the place of San-Antonio Rose, former star singer of "Pee Wee King," and I hear she will soon marry Ernest Tubb, the real hit singer of the Grand Old Opera. He also told us of his meeting with Sarah Blackwelder who is now known as the second Madame Curie, a world-famous Technician on Cancer.

I, having seen Harold Miller a few days earlier for a short while, was able to post them on the twins. Howard, who was one of the heroes of the second world war, is now piloting a round-the-world passenger plane, with Carol Erwin as his stewardess. Harold, who was also a flying ace, decided to remain in the Air Corps, where he is now Commanding Officer of "Miller Field," Mount Ulla, N. C.

Sarah Lackey has opened a Retreat for disabled World War II Veterans and has Ruby Wells as her private secretary with Evelyn Bradshaw as Superintendent of Nurses. With Evelyn's winning smile and Ruby's efficient hands, Sarah is making money.

Homer McDaniel whose ambition was to be a "Hell-driver," has finally settled down and became a well known farmer. If you remember well, he often got out of Study Hall that he might spend extra hours with Mr. Truesdale learning how to farm more scientifically.

After relating many interesting tales of school we looked up and whom should we see but Andrew Goodnight who left before school closed to join the Navy. He is now an Admiral. We invited him to join our party. Andrew was able to give us some up-to-the-minute data on some of our classmates. He had recently been to a Rose Bowl football game and to his surprise Albert Weast was coach of the winning team—Davidson College. He also told us that Leon Owen, who had become a Veterinarian, had found the cause of the disease that was causing the death of so many cows and horses, thereby gaining great renown.

Then Mildred Fesperman's name was next to come up. Thetis responded, telling us that she had gone west to Hollywood, planning to become a Secretary to Cecil B. DeMille but when Cecil took a look at Mildred's natural beauty he put her in the movies, and she is now starring in the picture, "Life at a Country School."

Someone asked then if I had heard from Catherine Knox and Sarah Jewett and I of course had, we being school pals, we had continued our friendship and I was able to give them up-to-date information on them. Catherine, carrying out the Knox tradition, attended Catawba College which is a co-ed school, and was married in her junior year and now has two cute little blue-eyed blond sons. Sarah, who always declared she would never marry, is married to a successful banker in Haymore and has a lovely country estate that was a part of the Umberger farms.

Knowing how well you like classical music, I suppose you have heard Charlie Owen many times conducting the New York Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra. He has had this job for several months and is spoken of as a genius. Jimmie tells us his family is very proud of him, which I can say as much for our class.

Thetis told us that her brother, Thomas Briggs, who is driving a Greyhound bus from Salisbury to Lincolnton, told her that Alton Holt and Hill Grey had opened a modern filling station in Mount Ulla. She also told us that Sam Brown had studied for the Ministry and was trying to get a band together to go to Japan to Christianize what was left of the Japanese.

Elsie Graham, who started out as sales girl for McClellans while in high school, has opened an exclusive women's shop in Bear Poplar and is doing well.

Christine Peeler, who attended business school in Salisbury and did Secretarial work at Belk-Harry's for a short while, has been transferred to Belk's in Charlotte where she met her husband who is manager of the Belk chain of stores.

According to Andrew, Calvin Barringer has gone to Brazil on an engineering job and is a bachelor.

Frances Davis who was a Front Line nurse in Italy fell in love with a Major doctor and married him when Germany surrendered and they are now "Deep in the Heart of Texas."

Nancy Carpenter, whose hobby in High School was skating, has finally worked herself up to the world champion skater.

Katherine Kerr and Helen Bradshaw have opened a cafe in Mooresville. If you are ever by there stop and get a grand meal.

Jimmie then inquired about Mary Anna Caldwell and what she was doing. She was teaching Physical Education at Boyden High School, but now has accepted the position of the Head of Physical Education at Catawba.

Oh, yes, Thurmond Upright is a Circuit Court Judge. His main cases are the veterans of the War II who still haven't gotten their pensions.

Doris Trexler, who would rather play baseball than eat, is now a Big League player for the New York Ladies team.

Sarah Ruth Blackwelder and Ola Mae Kennerly have opened an Orphanage for the homeless children of Europe.

Billie Link, after becoming the Editor of Progressive Farmer, had increased the circulation of the magazine more than double, due to his ability to express his knowledge on agriculture.

Maurice Parker has finally reached six feet and is the new county agent of Rowan County.

And last but far from the least, Clifton Atwell has taken over Mr. Truesdale's position as Professor of Agriculture, since Mr. Truesdale retired to live on the wealth he accumulated while teaching school.

At last our party broke up and we went out our many different ways to carry on our work.

Sincerely,
NANCY HALL,
Prophetess, Class of '44.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT OF THE CLASS OF 1944

Mount Ulla High School
Mount Ulla, North Carolina
February, 1944

Dear Mr. Cooke:

You have been selected by our class to act as administrator for our Last Will and Testament. We sincerely hope you will be able to see to the carrying out of all its provisions.

We, the senior class of Mount Ulla School, of the County of Rowan, and of the State of North Carolina, being of sane mind and contrite heart, hereby make, publish, and declare this historical document to be our Last Will and Testament, in form following hereby revoking any previous will made by us.

Item I To Mr. Cooke and the members of the faculty, who by their patient and unceasing efforts, have better prepared us for the future, we leave our sincerest appreciation and heartfelt thanks.

Item II To our parents, who by their self-sacrifice have made it possible for us to receive an education, we leave our undying love and appreciation.

Item III We the senior class do leave our dignity and our seats in Chapel to the juniors.

Item IV Individual bequeaths.

I, Nancy Hall, leave all my positions in the school organizations to someone who knows more about Geometry, thus causing less complications when a class is missed.

I, Homer McDaniel, bequeath my ability to stay on the sunny side of the teachers to Harry McCall, hoping that he doesn't get hurt.

I, Sara Ruth Blackwelder, leave my dislike of boys to Eloise Kennerly.

I, Harold Miller, leave my ability to graduate with highest honors to Richard Webb.

I, Margaret Oliphant, leave my position as official typist and general office helper to anyone who likes to work.

I, Sam Brown, leave my unusual athletic ability to Charlie Hamby, hoping that he will not fail to take his daily reducing exercises.

I, Thurmond (the Crooner) Upright, will my ability to make girls swoon when I sing to Gerald Belk.

I, Louise Craven, leave my love for string music to Margaret Atwell.

I, Billy Link, leave my pride and joy, my permanent wave, to Norman Owen.

I, Katherine Kerr, leave my position as menu reader to Elizabeth Little, hoping she will interrupt Mrs. Sink's class at more opportune moments.

We, Evelyn Bradshaw, Helen Bradshaw, and Clifton Atwell, will our ability to remain unnoticed to Elvin Holt.

I, Charles Owen, having a questionable sound mind, leave my good looks to L. C. Eudy.

We, Maurice Parker and Hill Gray, leave our excessive weight to Scott Coble.

I, Christine Peeler, leave Leon Owen to the draft board.

I, Elsie Graham, leave Doris Trexler to the boys from now on.

I, Sarah Lackey, leave my bashfulness to Tommy Nell Edwards.

I, Thetis Briggs, leave my merry laugh to the elements.

I, Alton Holt, being of a superior intellectual race, take my belongings with me.

We, Elsie Kerr and Virginia Shoaf, leave our love for civilian boys to any lucky girls.

We, Carmon Horton and Glenn Hoffner, leave our ability to skip several grades and graduate ahead of schedule to B. B. Miller.

I, Carol Erwin, will my greatest art, the ability to flirt and get away with it, to Mary Phipps.

I, Catherine Knox, leave my surplus amount of blood which rushes to my face at unexpected moments, to any junior girl.

I, Howard Miller, leave my civilian clothes to the moths.

I, Mildred Fesperman, leave my excessive long hair to Mr. Truesdale. With the aid of a little peroxide, it can be easily turned into a beautiful wig.

We, Thomas Briggs and Ola Mae Kennerly, leave our hearts, pierced by Dan Cupid's Arrow, to Betty Kyles and L. D. Kerr.

We, Willie Corriher and Doris Trexler, leave our red hair to anyone who has freckles to match.

I, Albert West, leave my true love, Minnie the Bus, to Joe Dick Lyerly, with the warning that she will run only when spoken to with words of kindness.

I, Mary Anna Caldwell, will my ability to bake a devils food cake to anyone.

I, Leon Owen, leave my clay collection to Mr. Truesdale.

I, Sarah Jewett, leave my willingness to be at everyone's command to Frances Thompson.

I, Calvin Barringer, leave my quiet and sober nature to Lawrence Dowell.

We, Sarah Blackwelder and Nancy Carpenter, being so much alike, leave our boy friends, "all of them," to the junior girls.

I, Ruby Wells, leave my pug nose to any debutante.

I, Frances Davis, leave my black hair to any lucky girl.

I, Jimmy Beeker, being of questionable sound mind since having finished this last will and testament of the class of '44—LEAVE.

Sincerely yours,
JIMMY BEEKER,

Testator.

Rayon . . . The South . . . And You

Today rayon is a leader in the textile field . . . second only to cotton in volume. During the past 18 years rayon production in this country has jumped from 51,000,000 pounds in 1925 to around 650,000,000 pounds in 1943 . . . and most of this remarkable industrial development has been right here in the South . . . Among the leaders in the expansion of rayon weaving has been BURLINGTON MILLS, the world's largest fabricators of man-made yarns. In planning for your college course . . . and for that job after the war . . . consider the opportunities the rayon weaving industry offers YOU.

Dearest Emma Jane,

Just think! Only one more day of school.
"All Sport" you know who is finishing too.
Don't take it too hard.

Emma Jane, I could never tell you how much your friendship means to me. You have been and always will be one of my dearest friends. Always remain the same sweet, fun loving "Em".

I certainly had a grand time this evening. Mind your position Ed!
Hope you get that "harvest" (grain) I told.

Congratulations on being a Marshall!
You deserve it! You should stay on your job better. Remember who you were talking to Sun. night and let those people pass without a "pro gram". "Hawee, Em."

Our skating trips have been wonderful.
Have it like? Remember Bill?

Here's the closing, Sport. For us it is not goodbye for the "seasons", only until tomorrow! (I hope to see you always)
